

48 Season Hot Starts

Seattle Pilot Bryant McCracken is off to a super hot start this season. McCracken leads the Atlantic League in HR (8) and RBI's (23) and is hitting a robust .389. Looking forward to seeing if Bryant can keep it going all season long.

Alvin Davis of the Arizona Diamond backs and the number 1 prospect in all of FRBA is shinning early on. Davis is has a slash line of .274/.375/.565 with an OPS+ of 155. Can you say Rookie of the Year. We will see.

What can you say about Brian Jeter of the New York Yankees so far. He is just outta sight. With an ERA of 1.30 in his 4 starts, all of which have been wins, and a WHIP of 0.72 Jeter is looking prime for a run at a Cy Young Award. The Yankees have a powerful lineup and with Jeter pitching they might be unbeatable.

The Philadelphia Phillies ace Jarod Billingsley is giving the organization their monies worth. Jarod has a 1.17 ERA and a WHIP of 0.48 after 3 starts this season. Billingsley is leading the FRBA with a 10.6 strikeout per 9 innings average. Last years innings pitched leader is primed for a great season as long as the Phillies bats come alive when he is on the bump.

STAT OF THE MONTH:

The New York Yankees are off to a dandy start this season. Off to a 14-3 record and already a 7 game lead the Yankees have the potential to make a mockery of the North Division of the Atlantic League. The Yanks are 1st in; RS, HR, EBH, Slug, ERA (both Starters and Bullpen), RA, Opp Avg, and Defensive Efficiency. WOW

COMMISSIONERS CORNER:

Well, the 1948 Season is off and running smooth. The Yankees look like the team to beat. Announcement about the 48 WS Trophy was made (Pilsner Beer Glass). The draft is moving right along with two big time pitching studs going 1 and 2. Remember the updated contract bonus rules which have been posted.
